

Organised by

Supported by

"Safe Water for All and Always"
Science - Policy - Markets

TARAGram Mela 2013
"Safe Water for All and Always"

Melas are synonymous to festivity, they reverberate cheer throughout India. These popular cultural gatherings are held across the country typically during harvest seasons or to mark the significance of festivals. If we combine this expression of celebration with development agenda or issues, it gives a new meaning to mela. There is "celebration in learning" or "festival of learning". Development Alternatives calls this "festival of learning" - "TARAGram Mela".

TARAGram Mela is an annual event of Development Alternatives and is organised in its TARAGram Orchha Campus at Bundelkhand. The main objective of TARAGram Mela is to share the experiences and learning's of various development efforts in Bundelkhand to a larger world.

TARAGram Mela 2013 "Safe Water for All and Always" will be organised on 23rd October 2013 at TARAGram Orchha. TARAGram Mela 2013 will provide a platform to showcase water related efforts and initiatives of various Bundelkhand based development agencies.

TARAGram Mela 2013

Date

23rd October 2013

Time

11:00 am to 1:00 pm

Venue

TARAGram, Orchha

Key Highlights

- Technology Demonstration (Purification, Conservation and Preservation)
- Water Conservation Models
- Awareness Method and Techniques
- Traditional Water Harvesting Exhibits
- Folk Programmes
- Sale of Products Developed by Local Community
- Zaika Bundelkhand ka